The official newsletter of the Mississippi Mudds - September 2016

News from the Board - Lesley Moll, Secretary

The board met on September the 7th. Among the topics for discussion were the updating of the Mudds website. Watch for the new site to be launched soon. If you see any issues with the new site, or have suggestions for what you would like to see, please notify Lesley Moll – Lesley@jlcreative.ca – There is a login spot for members, joining provides more information than the public site. There is also a sign up page to join the audition mailing list.

The board is looking for fund raising ideas for a new campaign to replace the follow spots (at a cost of approximately $6000.00) if you have suggestions or ideas, or grant writing experience, please contact Lesley as well.

The Mudds will be presenting a Murder Mystery in January; we will keep you posted as this moves forward. The Mudds will be running a kids summer camp program next year – stay tuned on the website and Facebook, and of course Muddprints for details.

With each show, the Board appoints a liaison to assist if there are any concerns. The liaisons for this season are as follows:

- o King Lear – Karen Lapointe
- o Mary Poppins – Lesley Moll
- o Aladdin – Barb Dickson
- o HMS Pinafore – Kate Cooney
- o Mudds Underground - Assassins – Jeff Lee

King Lear Update - Mark Piper, Director

Well, nobody died. Yet. For real, that is.

I mean more than half the cast dies in Act 5

Scene 3, and the stage is full of bodies, and one guy gets his eyes ripped out, but it's all in good fun.

Yes, King Lear rehearsals continue, and by the time you read the next Muddprints article, we'll be in production. And you will all have purchased tickets - all tickets $10 - and will be sitting in the audience. I know this to be true.

Five performances, so you can fit it in with your schedule. Evening performances: Friday October 21, Saturday October 22, Friday, October 28, Saturday, October 29 - all at 7:30 pm. And one matinee: Sunday, October 23, at 2:00 pm. You can go, and still have time to go get Hallowe'en candy.

Anyway. We've had our first run through. It worked.

And we do have the swords out. Young men, young women, fighting with swords in church. What the new minister at St. James Anglican must think, I don't know.

Costumes? Done. (They're great.)

Poster? Done. (You'll love it.)

Publicity? In hand. (Articles and pics in the Canadian Gazette and the Humm. Yay!)

Tickets? Printed. (They're very ticketty.)

Props? In process. (Translation: we were done, but I just asked for a lot more.)

Actors all completely off book, one month before performance? ... Um ...

Oh, give me a break. (They love to torture me. And I'm such a sweet, kind, sensitive soul, too.)

So. Don't panic. Nobody is dead yet. Tickets go on sale soon.

Blood. Combat. Thunder. Lightning.
Betrayal. Death. You'll love it.

(But not really death, not yet.)

Mary Poppins Update – Joanne Samler, Producer

Happy to tell you rehearsals are going great. Our musical director, Laurel Tye, was able to teach four main numbers basically a capella until our pianist was available. The cast learned their music without the benefit of a full time pianist for the first three rehearsals. It was a great way to sock in the notes!

We are now breaking in our new pianist, Mary Lou Carroll, and she is proving more than capable to the task. It's going to be fun singing with her.

The main chorus numbers have already started, character development is well underway and there's even some choreo set up. Not bad for less than a full month of practice.

The magic of Mary Poppins is being worked on by Jon and Patti Lockhart, our special effects team, assisting the Props team led by Barb Dickson.

The costume team have their plan, with a lot of it completed already. These ladies, under Judith Scott, are doing an awesome job, as each member of the Mary Poppins cast has at least two costumes, and some up to five!

Kate Martin has come up with an innovative set plan. Can't wait to see the final sketches! Sandra Dunlop, Director of Mary Poppins, is scheduling the rehearsal time so that it used most effectively. Small groups, individuals, and the entire cast rotate through to learn everything in the most efficient manner.

It is so much fun to sit on the sidelines and watch the development. The young people grow in their confidence, the shyest amongst the cast is starting to shine, and the leads are honing their craft to give the best performance they can.

Mary Poppins is not to be missed. Show dates are Friday, November 25 – 7:30 pm; Saturday, November 26 – 2:00 pm; Sunday, November 27 – 2:00 pm. The following week is Thursday, December 1 – 7:30 (tickets only $15 that night), Friday, December 2 – 7:30 pm and Saturday, December 3 – 2:00 pm. See you for a spoonful of musical sugar.

News from Aladdin Jr. - Kate Cooney, Director

Aladdin has been cast and we are looking forward to a successful season. Any members being asked about other opportunities for children, please refer people to our upcoming summer camp program.

A Cabinet of Surprises! - Tony Scott. Director

A big "thank-you" to the Board for their approval of my new Murder Mystery Dinner Theatre, 'A Comi-Cal Murder'. This presentation is scheduled for the end of January, with auditions sometime in November - so look in the October Muddsprints for date, time and location. This MM should be fun for both audience and cast, and includes dressing up as comic characters. The really basic story line is that a mad genius billionaire has invited some cos-players to his mansion to participate in a role playing game. But he has a dark motive: He has invented a machine that will give anyone who enters it a super power and wants to try it out on these suckers. Too bad, he gets murdered some time after the salad. So, who now wants to enter 'SPAM'? (That's the Super Power Activation Machine). And who dunnit? And why?

Any Mudd who wants to try out a Murder Mystery for the first time or those who know how much fun it can be and want to repeat the experience can start by letting me know they want to be part if it.

Have a "super" month, everyone!

Call for Volunteer - Lesley Moll, Secretary

As many of you know, the Mudds run a Nevada program at Giant Tiger every weekend (except holidays). This is a very important fund raiser for the Mudds that helps us to keep productions going. A volunteer is needed to organize the volunteers for the shifts. This position requires about 6 hours per year.

The job entails:

- Sending out an email to the membership 4-6 times per year (every 2-3 months) asking if there are dates that they are unavailable for shifts
- Scheduling individuals based on their availability.
- Sending out the schedule when it is done.
- Sending out a reminder email the week of the shift to remind the volunteers of their shift.
- Tracking how many shifts each person has done (trying to maintain fairness with 2-3 shifts per person)

All the emails, spread sheets etc are organized and the system is easy to follow. Training and assistance will be provided. This is a great volunteer position, particularly if you are a member who can not work the shifts on the weekends.

If you are willing to take this very important position on, or if you would like more information, please contact Lesley Moll, Lesley@jlcreative.ca 613-663-9279.

MUDDS MEMORIES PROJECT – Laurel Tye

Your memories of the MUDDS are important in gathering a well-rounded history of the MUDDS. For this reason you will be contacted by one of the collaborators for a face to face interview. We are aiming to have our memory collection put together for our 50th anniversary which is in seven years. This may seem like a far off target, but gathering and editing takes time.

Part of this publication will include a section outlining the benefits to a community in having a theatre group. Your views on this are appreciated as well as your memories and pictures.

Be ready with your story!

A Reminder - Breaking News for All Protectors and Loves of the Arts! - Jan Ferguson, Board Director

The Mississippi Mudds of Carleton Place, Inc., has come up with a plan that will guarantee the continuation of top quality theatre in our beloved Town Hall at affordable prices for all!

Our audience has become accustomed to bigger and better every year.....bigger casts, bigger sets, better costumes, better lighting, better sound.....the list goes on!! This comes at a cost that also grows bigger every year! 'Back in the day' we'd put on shows to raise money! Today, we have to raise money to put on shows! That's just reality.

We are so very thankful for community businesses that agree to 'sponsor' us season by season. And even this is a tribute to our hard working publicity team that searches out these wonderful ambassadors of the arts every year. Now, we are offering an opportunity for individuals to become PATRONS OF THE MUDDS!

Your name will appear on a special 'patronage' page in every program for the season. We have taken the acronym MUDDS - music, Dance, Drama, on Stage and created a PATRONAGE PLAN for all ! Choose your own comfort level.

A gift of $20. to $49.00 makes you a PATRON OF THE MUSIC

A gift of $50. to $99.00 makes you a PATRON OF THE DANCE

A gift of $100. to $149.00 makes you a PATRON OF THE DRAMA

A gift of $150. to $499.00 makes you a PATRON OF THE STAGE and any gift over $500.00 makes you one of our PATRON 'SAINTS'!

If you prefer, you can make a gift in memory of someone or in honour of someone.

The choice is yours.

For more information on how to become part of the PATRONAGE PLAN just write to Karen Lapointe c/o MISSISSIPPI MUDDS at Box 224, Carleton Place, K7C 3P3 or contact Karen at 613-668-6874 or by email at kazli63@gmail.com
